Botero and the most beautiful women in the world, Medellin Colombia

ABOUT ME

PAUL SHOUL NORTHAMPTON, MASS., UNITED STATES

Welcome. I am a staff photographer and writer for Gonomad.com, Preview Magazine: a weekly contributor for the Valley Advocate, and a freelancer for publications around our world. The images on this site are from today, yesterday, and from the beginning of my photo journey. I hope you find them to be just as fun, thought provoking and as fascinating as I did when they happened in front of me. Thanks for taking a look.

When I first arrived in Medellin, the woman who met me at the air port said after 5 minutes, "You know, In Medellin, we have the most beautiful women in the world". She was proof enough but every where I went it proved to be true. They are gorgeous and confident in their beauty. It was .....distracting. Apparently though, some of that confidence comes from why some call

Medellin " the plastic surgery capital of the world". It is as my father would say, " a real torpedo factory"
